ADMINISTRATIVE POSITIONS:

1990-present University of Oklahoma

Committee A, Department of Communication: Elected Position (Personnel Committee comprised of two faculty members and the chair of the department).

Years of service: 1998, 2001-2003, 2005-2007.

2000-present: Member, Executive Committee, Advanced Program (Master's Degree Program in Interdisciplinary International Relations), University of Oklahoma

My responsibilities include designing curriculum offered by the Department of Communication and coordinating faculty assignments to the University of Oklahoma's Master's Degree Program in Interdisciplinary International Relations. The teaching sites include in Washington D.C., Lakenheath and Mildenhall UK, NATO Command Treebeek the Netherlands, Heidelberg, Stuttgart, and Kaiserslautern Germany, Hurlburt Field, Florida, Aviano, Italy.

1997-2013: Director, Advanced Programs (AP) Master's Degree in International Relations

This job overlapped with my responsibilities for the AP Master's in Communication for three years. My responsibilities directing the Communication Department's participation in the AP Interdisciplinary Master's Degree in International Relations include designing curriculum offered by the Department of Communication in the Advanced Programs Master's in International Relations and coordinating faculty teaching assignments in several locations around the world including Hickam/Pearl Harbor, Aviano, Italy, Heidelberg, Germany, and several other sites.

1995-2000: Director, Advanced Programs (AP) Master's Degree in Communication

My responsibilities included designing curriculum offered by the Department of Communication Master's Degree in the Advanced Programs at OU, and coordinating Faculty teaching assignments in several locations around the United States including the Pentagon, Washington D.C.

1993-1996: Director of Undergraduate Advising, OU Department of Communication.

I supervised two fulltime graduate assistants in providing academic advising to 500+ communication majors. My responsibilities include making decisions about transfer credit, structuring undergraduate curriculum and supervising three graduate assistants who handle undergraduate advising. With the aid of the Department Chair, Wayland Cummings, I reorganized the undergraduate curriculum in 1994. Authored the Undergraduate section of the Department Review document sent to The University of Oklahoma President's Office, 1994.

1990-1993: Faculty Director of Public Speaking, Department of Communication.

My responsibilities include coordinating and managing eight to 10 to 15 graduate teaching assistants in sixteen to twenty sections of the course.

1985-1990 Director of Undergraduate Internships, Radford University.

I was involved in establishing the internship relationship, monitoring and evaluating the internship for the assignment of college credit. I also coordinated several internships in the area of broadcast journalism, placing many in CNN's Washington Bureau. This involved about 25 internships at any one time.
